C. Cannw, an old English Feet wrote many graceful lyrics, which for their maturalnessend point are very readable at this dis-tent day. This "Disdain Returned" is a good temembrancer for some females who have lost a laver and work to know why?

He that loves a a rosy cheek, Or a coral lip admires, Or from sur-like eyes doth reck Fuel to maintain his fires; As old Time makes there decay, So his flames must weste away.

But a smooth and stediest mind, Gentle thoughts and culm desires, Hearts with equal love combined, Kindle never dying fires. Where these are not, I dispise Lovely cheeks, or lips, or eyes.

No tears, Celia, now shall win My resolved beart to return. I have searched thy soul within, And find naught but pride and scorn: I have learned thy arts, and now Can disdain as much as thou: Some power in my revenge convey That love to her I cast away!
